

Project Scope Sheet

Premise: The reason this project exists

(Ex: A rancher who has learned to coexist with predators through nonlethal management strategies is setting an example for how to have a healthier working ranch rich in biodiversity.)

Goal: What you plan to accomplish overall

(Ex: I will spend three months in the field profiling the rancher, the management strategies, the biodiversity of the ranch, and the challenges and pitfalls of the compromise. The work I create will provide powerful visuals to help change the mind of ranchers and encourage non-lethal predator control and increased coexistence with other wildlife on ranchland.)

Deliverables: List the physical items you're actually going to create from this project

(Ex: I will have:

- 1) a portfolio of 12 images as a proof of concept to submit with a pitch to XYZ magazine
- 2) a gallery showing of at least 24 images in the rancher's local town to raise awareness
- 3) a webpage on my website containing the portfolio and a 500 word description of the project)

Out of Scope: What are you NOT going to include.

This will help you ensure you don't take on excess work or be distracted by things that don't fit into your goals or deliverables.

Timeframe: When will you be working on this project

(Will it be the month of May, or three months over fall, etc. When will you know you're done?)

Success: Create a short write-up of what success looks like to you.
